Hello Kevin,

Yes it is a hectic time of the year, thanks for keeping us posted though. I will let leadership and the water group know.

We will talk soon, thanks.

Hi Cliff,

I just wanted to give you an update on where EPA is with our Response to the Nation's Comments on the Roulette Oil & Gas draft permit. I'd also like to apologize for taking so long in getting our responses to the Nation. There were many insightful and technical comments made so we had to do a bit of research to give the Nation fair and complete responses. Our program recently finished up our initial responses to your comments. I've forwarded our responses to our counsel and they're currently reviewing them. Next, we'd have to send our responses through concurrence and have our division director sign off on them. Hopefully we can wrap the responses up by the end of the month.

Again, I apologize for taking so long on the responses. It's just a hectic time of year!
